

Megan Rainey is a pianist and singer from Ashville, Ohio. She graduated from The Ohio State University with a BM in Piano Performance, and later from James Madison University with an MM in Piano Performance. During her time in school, Megan studied both piano and voice while working as a professional accompanist, vocal coach and classroom piano teacher. She also competed frequently on the university level as a solo pianist in the central Ohio and Shenandoah Valley areas and has performed with chamber ensembles in Luxembourg and Germany.

Megan's goal as a teacher is to help create musicians who are passionate and well-rounded. With an equal focus on ear training, theory, injury-preventive technique and improvisation, she aims to introduce her students to a variety of styles and help them find music that speaks to them personally. She has years of experience teaching musicians of all levels, from beginners (both children and adults) to seasoned professionals.

In addition to teaching, Megan can also be seen playing for the Momentum Excellence children's dance company and accompanying the Columbus Maennerchor and Damenchor on a regular basis. She also appears frequently in Columbus venues with her family's folk band, The Rainey's, with whom she sings and plays the piano, flute and accordion. Megan also enjoys songwriting and is in the process of creating her first studio album.
